Description

This 41,645 SF (nearly a full acre) beachfront homesite provides a front row seat to frolicking humpback whales, sea turtle hatchlings popping out of the sand to start their journey to the sea, pelicans swoop across waves cresting before they sigh their last breath onto the expansive sandy beach. Miles of white-sand beach extend in either direction, often without another person in sight. This location is favored by fishermen, surfers, kitesurfers, kayakers, sailors, birders, and beachcombers for its pristine surroundings and easy access to the water. This is Baja as it once was, off-grid and largely undeveloped, yet just 23 miles from Los Cabos International Airport and 27 miles, about an hour drive from the city of San José del Cabo.
